COUNTY YOUTH IS ACQUITTED IN TRESPASS CASE

A verdict in favor of the defendant was handed down Thursday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock by the jury in the trespass brought by Glenn W. Brown, New Oxford, against Norman Sponseller, 20, East Berlin R. 2. The jury received the case at 4:32 o'clock.

Brown asked damages as administrator of the estate of his 13-year-old son, William Woodrow Brown, who was fatally injured October 31, 1954, about a half mile east of New Oxford on the Lincoln Highway. The youth was riding a bicycle when it collided with Sponseller's car. Witnesses gave various speeds of Sponseller's car at the time of the crash. Most witnesses said that the child had turned his bike into the path of the car just as it was passing the bicycle.

This morning the second of the civil cases being heard by Judge Dale R. Shughart, Carlisle, while the murder case is being heard by Judge W. C. Sheely, got underway in the law library at the court house.

As in Thursday's case, the jury for the civil suit was drawn this morning in the court room, before the murder trial resumed, and then the jurors adjourned to the law library with Judge Shughart.

Begin Second Action

Today's case is the action in trespass brought by Elmer R. Gastley, R. 5, against Henry U. Wagner, Table Rock, as a result of an accident October 30, 1954, on the Biglerville Rd. in Butler Twp. between here and Biglerville.

Testimony this morning indicated that Wagner was making a turn into a private driveway when his car and a truck operated by Gastley collided. Gastley was injured.

The law firm of Bigham and Ruffenberger is representing Wagner and Donald G. Oyler and Charles W. Wolf are attorneys for Gastley.

Members of the jury hearing the case are Oscar Brown, 314 S. Queen St., Littlestown; Olive Bushey, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Dorothy Davis, York Springs R. 2; Charles Petrow, East Berlin; Harry E. Marks, Aspers; Harry McDowell, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Grace Myers, 149 Chambersburg St.; C. F. Nixie, Fairfield R. 1; R. E. Shaffer, 20 Seminary Ave.; Dallas W. Shiner, Littlestown; James Kenneth Zeigler, Littlestown R. 2.

Jack And Jill Shoppe Moves From Lincoln Square To Larger Building; Open Today

The Jack and Jill Shoppe today opened for business at its new location, 13 Chambersburg St. in a store four times the size of its former location in The First National Bank Building, and possibly eight times the size of the original shop on Carlisle St. when it began as a business approximately nine years ago.

The Shoppe is in a completely remodeled building where Joe, The Motorists' Friend was located for many years.

Tan and brown asphalt tile has been placed on the floors, accoustical tile covers the ceiling, the walls have been painted turquoise, the interiors of the show cases have been painted yellow and the exterior of most of the cases and the aisle counters are in natural birch. Fluorescent lights, that extend the length of the 90-foot-long storeroom, are white. The shop closed Tuesday afternoon in the First National Bank building from which it was moved to permit expansion of the bank lobby. It opened at 9 o'clock this morning in the former POS of a building now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Guise.

Opened 9 Years Ago

Mrs. Guise, owner of the Jack and Jill Shoppe, assisted by her clerks, Mrs. Bernard Redding Jr., Mrs. John Guise, and Mrs. Samuel Swope, and by the husbands of the four women, worked during the two day interval to get the new shop in readiness for its opening day. Mrs. Guise said: "Without their help we would never have made it."

The Shoppe came into existence about nine years ago in a store room on Carlisle St. Mrs. Guise, mother of two children, says she always had wanted to sell children's clothes.

"Other clothing is nice, but it isn't the kind of business I want to be in," she said. "You have so much fun clothing the youngsters, and you and their mothers become close friends," she added.

Woman Cook At Tract Inn Says She Saw Gingell With Gun And Shells On Morning Of Shooting

The George W. Gingell murder trial moved ahead slowly today with the testimony of the proprietor of the Tract Inn where the March 24 shooting occurred and his wife occupying the entire morning.

Carroll Troxell, proprietor of the inn, returned to the stand for more questions from District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter this afternoon and the prospect of the case running well into next week's court session seemed a certainty today.

The regular session of sentence court will be held Saturday morning and when that is completed — possibly not before noon — the murder trial will be resumed and continued through the afternoon. Attorneys and police connected with the case were predicting today that the case may not be completed before Wednesday.

Mrs. Ella L. Troxell, Fairfield R. 2, wife of the tavern proprietor, was on the stand for an hour this morning after the trial got off to a late start. It was nearly 10 o'clock before she was summoned after a common pleas jury had been drawn for a damage suit which then went on trial in the law library at the court house.

Saw Gingell With Gun

Mrs. Troxell, who worked as cook at the inn, told of having seen George Gingell with a gun in his hands in a small storage room between the kitchen and the bar.

She continued in answer to questions: "I said, 'George what are you doing?' and he referred something to him and Mainer. I don't remember just what he said. Then I said: 'George, I don't want no trouble' and he said: 'I won't cause you no trouble.'"

"I said: 'George, give me those shells,' and she explained that Gingell had a shell in his hand and was loading one into the gun with an open box of shells nearby. 'He handed me two shells and I took them and the box of shells and put them in a kitchen cupboard.'"

Then she quoted Gingell as saying: "I'll use it (the gun) as a club if Mainer comes in the back door." Mrs. Troxell testified she told Gingell that was "all right." "You can use it as a club, you've got protection."

Gingell Was Calm

She said Gingell stood in the storage room for some time and seemed calm. The next time she saw him, she testified, was when he brought the gun into the kitchen and laid it on a table and said: "Out there lays Mainer." Two sailors came in, she added, and were going to pick up the gun but Gingell told them to leave it alone. Gingell was still "calm."

Mrs. Troxell said she did not hear a shot and had not heard any conversation between Mainer and Gingell. She was unable to fix exact times and said simply that Gingell was at the tavern before midnight and Lee Mainer and Mrs. Mabert Hoffman came in about 1:45 a.m. and they were together at the bar. She said the gun was regularly kept in the storage room over the bar-room door.

Mrs. Troxell was re-called to the stand after an 11 o'clock recess to identify a box of shells and two green shells she said looked like the ones she had gotten from Gingell.

"I Don't Remember"

Mr. Troxell, the 13th witness in the case, was still under direct examination at the noon recess. The questioning was tedious as Troxell delayed the answers and frequently said "I don't remember." He could not recall any words that Mainer or Gingell had used although he said Mainer was loud and had to be called down by Troxell. Mainer was swearing and it was directed at Gingell, he said, but could not recall the words that were used.

Miner "invited Gingell out," Troxell said. Mainer left the bar while Gingell was in the storage room and when Troxell was asked if he saw Gingell with the gun, he said: "Mr. Teeter, I've been asked a thousand questions in different ways and I don't remember."

He testified "Shockey" told him to call the police and an ambulance "right away, it's serious." Troxell couldn't remember whether anybody told him who had been shot. He said no one told him Gingell had a gun. He called the state police at Gettysburg and an ambulance, he said as court recessed at noon.

The court room was well filled again this morning but it was not as crowded as Thursday afternoon when tipstaves had to help spectators find seats.

Mrs. Gingell, wife of the defendant, sat in the front row this morning. She cannot talk to her husband during the trial but during recesses and before and after sessions, they chat in the hallways.

State police specialists and other witnesses from the inn remain of the Commonwealth's list of persons scheduled to be called to testify.

The defense attorneys learned this morning that one or more of the witnesses they expected to call at under scarlet fever quarantine. Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., associate defense counsel, was notified by telephone of the development during a morning court recess. He declined to say who the witnesses are.

Refutes Testimony

COLLEGES MAY USE HI SCHOOLS IN EVENINGS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A study was under way today to use high school buildings in key cities throughout the state to relieve overcrowding in the 14 state teachers' colleges.

Dr. Ralph C. Swan, acting superintendent of public instruction, said this and other proposals are being examined in an effort to use public schools "for some training beyond the high school level."

"I personally think there's a wonderful opportunity to use all these new school facilities beyond their present purposes," he told a newsman.

The Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn. adopted a resolution recently endorsing the idea of utilizing high school buildings at night to house freshman classes of state teachers' colleges.

Foresee Approval
These would be similar to the area college centers set up by the state immediately after World War II. They were later abandoned.

"Because of the great shortage of teachers and the need for getting more trained teachers quickly," said Preston O. Van Ness, secretary of the school directors' group, "I believe school boards would be willing to grant the use of these buildings at a minimum cost of maintenance."

The resolution sent to Gov. Leader read:

"We endorse the use of public school buildings between the hours of 3:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. on school days and all day on Saturday by our state teachers' colleges to relieve this overcrowded condition at a minimum cost sufficient to cover janitor service, heat, light and maintenance."

Swan said he expected "far more" applicants for entrance to the teachers' colleges than available openings. There are about 12,000 future teachers being trained at these institutions.

He said the Commission on Higher Education, appointed last year by the governor, plans to make a report next fall covering the entire field of college facilities.

"Nothing final will develop until this commission makes its report," he declared.

Van Ness said he was told by teachers' college presidents that the number of prospective students turned away totals in the thousands.

"I'm inclined to think that if our shiny new high schools in key areas are used to teach freshman classes for teachers' colleges the overcrowding could be considerably reduced," he said.

"For example, the Shippensburg State Teachers College could locate a freshman class facility at a high school in Harrisburg; Bloomsburg at Wilkes-Barre; Edinboro at Erie, and son on."

FIRE DESTROYS 8-ROOM HOUSE

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the former Emanuel Chuck farm house, now owned by Adams County Novelty Corporation and tenanted by Lloyd Sterner, Gettysburg R. 2, near Knoxlyn, this morning. The Sterner family lost all of its possessions.

The blaze is believed to have started at the rear of the house. Mr. Sterner's father and a four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sterner were watching television in the front room of the eight-room frame dwelling about 10:15 o'clock this morning when smoke suddenly poured into the living room. They ran from the house, unable to take any possessions with them.

Mr. Sterner was engaged in farming some distance from the house; Mrs. Sterner was the Gettysburg Shoe Co. plant near here where she is employed in the cafeteria. An older son was at school.

Fairfield firemen, called by Mrs. Ira Walter, Gettysburg R. 2, who lives about a half-mile away, called the Cashtown Fire Company immediately after reaching the fire, four miles from Fairfield.

A large barn close to the house and other outbuildings were saved. The house and its contents were lost.

The two-story and attic structure was recently remodeled, neighbors said.

Robert Poth, for the owners, could not give an estimate of damage immediately, but said the place was a "total loss."

Mrs. Sterner told neighbors that she and the remainder of her family had not decided where they will stay. A brother of Mr. Sterner resides on another farm owned by Mr. Poth, about a mile from the burned structure. Mrs. Walter and her daughter have also offered the Sterners rooms.

TO SELL BULBS FOR BAND FUND

Members of the Band Booster Club of Gettysburg High School will conduct a house to house sale of new Verd-Ray light bulbs Monday evening, May 7, for the benefit of the band uniform fund. The fund is now $500 to $900 short.

Light bulbs will be sold in kits of four in the 60 or 100-watt sizes. Kits of mixed bulbs may also be purchased. Other types may be ordered.

Verd-Ray bulbs are designed to give less glare and more eye comfort. They are coated in a glass-on-glass manner to produce a filtering action and a softer white light. The diffused light reduces the glare.

Another feature of the bulb is the 100-watt size which is no larger than the 60-watt size. It can be used in lamps which will take only a small size bulb.

Former American Editor Of Shanghai Paper Is Charged With Thwarting Korean War

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Editor John William Powell has been indicted by the government in its first use of a 1953 sedition law. He is charged with using his China Monthly Review in Shanghai to thwart American military progress in the Korean War.

He says the charge is "completely untrue."

Powell, his wife Sylvia and Julian Schuman of New York all were named in one indictment Wednesday.

Twelve other counts are leveled against Powell alone. He is charged with publishing issues of the Review which accused the United States of being internally corrupt, pursuing a "morally unjustifiable" foreign policy, attempting to exterminate the peoples of Korea and China with germ warfare and poison gas, testing germ warfare weapons on Korean and Chinese prisoners and spreading smallpox in North Korea. These statements, the indictment charges, Powell "well knew were false and untrue."

Denies Sedition
"I think they're pushing this a little far," Powell told the Associated Press when informed of the indictment. "Certainly neither Sylvia nor I have done anything seditious. That's completely untrue."

"What we have done is to have expressed very openly and vigorously our opinions on what has happened in China and on our government's foreign policy in China. We've learned in the last three years we've been home that you say these things at some risk."

"Our policy doesn't recognize the revolution in China as an accomplished fact. If we continue to play footsie with Chiang Kai-shek we'll lose all of Asia."

The Powells, each 36, have lived in San Francisco since 1953, when they closed the Review and returned to the United States. The Review was started by Powell's father, the famed late J. B. Powell, as a weekly in 1917. The elder Powell continued publishing after the Japanese occupation of Shanghai in 1937 until Pearl Harbor Day in 1941. He died in 1947, weakened by wartime imprisonment and starvation at Japanese hands.

The Powells have two sons, John, 6, and Tom, 4, both born in Shanghai.

Schuman, 36, was listed as associate editor of the Review and Mrs. Powell as contributing editor. Powell said he presumes Schuman is in New York.

The indictment, returned before Federal Judge O. D. Hamlin, says in the first count that all three "conspired" to circulate the Review in the United States during the Korean War "with intent to interfere with the operation and success of U.S. military and naval forces and to promote the success of its enemies," North Korea and Red China.

Judge Hamlin set bail at $5,000 for each. If convicted they could receive a sentence of up to 20 years and $10,000 fine on each count, which could make Powell's punishment if found guilty a maximum 260 years in prison and $130,000 in fines.

Powell said he and his wife would surrender to the U.S. marshal here today.

President Merwyn Fuss announced

the measure carries tax increases with it—$14,600,000,000 in new and increased taxes for road users over a 16-year period. These, with road taxes already collected, supposedly will be ample to pay for the new program.

Rep. Boggs (D-La.), author of the tax provisions, said he knew of no opposition to them.

Boggs told the House yesterday it has been estimated the increases would cost the average motorist an additional $8.83 a year.

"But he will gain about $20 in savings—in insurance, maintenance, less damage, less waste of time."

HOUSE TO VOTE ON $51 BILLION ROAD MEASURE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Voting starts in the House today on the final shape of a $51-billion-dollar national road construction program designed to be self-financing.

Both Republicans and Democrats predicted it would pass.

Opposition that appeared in the first day of floor discussion on the measure yesterday dealt primarily with two side issues—wage regulation and utility line relocation costs.

A compromise was reported reached on the utility facilities so as to allow the states to follow their traditional practice on reimbursing utility lines for moving their poles and lines along road rights of way.

A fight loomed on the provision to allow the secretary of labor to set minimum wages for workers on the proposed interstate system.

13-Year Program
The bill would provide for $51 billion dollars in federal and state roadbuilding over the next 13 years. It includes 27½ billions for a 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways. The federal government would pay 90 per cent of its cost, the states the rest.

The federal government also would step up its regular aid to states for roads.

The measure carries tax increases with it—$14,600,000,000 in new and increased taxes for road users over a 16-year period. These, with road taxes already collected, supposedly will be ample to pay for the new program.

She explained the difference between her statement to the police and district attorney on March 28 and her testimony in court by saying "I wasn't under oath then (that is on March 28)." She added that "in the district attorney's office I was excited, I'd never been in anything like this before. Some of the things I said then were not straight, since then I've calmed down. I'm telling the truth now."

Tenant Of Sister
Teeter opened his cross-examination by bringing out that Mrs. Mainer Hoffman, sister of the defendant, is Mrs. Boyer's landlord in Emmitsburg.

She admitted on the stand she was "not forced" to make the March 28 statement and was "not threatened."

Tells Tavern Events
Mrs. Boyer, the eighth Commonwealth witness, was on the stand more than 40 minutes. On her direct testimony she said Gingell had arrived at the tavern about 8:30 p.m. March 23. He was alone and spent the evening at the bar. He had "one or two shots of whiskey that I saw him drink," she said.

She said she saw Mainer come in at 1:45 a.m. March 24 with Mrs. Mainer Hoffman, Gingell's sister. Gingell was sitting at the bar talking to a Mrs. Sweeney from Emmitsburg, she said. Mainer and Mrs. Hoffman stood at the west end of the bar and as soon as Mainer saw Gingell he started "cussing" him. Told to repeat Mainer's words, Mrs. Boyer asked if she should use plain words and Mr. Teeter said: "Yes, very plain."

She told of Mainer cussing Gingell and announcing his plan to "kill him tonight, it has to be done" and the half hour or more of loud talk before the shooting. Gingell remained calm and asked Mainer to "please keep my family out of this," she said. She added that she had not seen the gun before the shooting and didn't know there was a gun at the inn until she saw it on a kitchen table after she was told "George Gingell shot that other guy."

Recalls Early Statements
On cross-examination, Teeter read question after question that had been asked Mrs. Boyer in Teeter's office March 28 with state police present—and he read Mrs. Boyer's answers in which she had told of seeing Gingell with the gun, of threats made by him to "get Mainer before he gets me," of seeing Gingell with the loaded gun and of telling him "not to get into trouble."

Mrs. Boyer also admitted saying March 28—but now denied—that Mainer told Gingell he "didn't have the guts" to kill Mainer and that Troxell (the inn proprietor) had tried to get the gun from Gingell and that Gingell had told Troxell: "I won't cause you any trouble, it will all be my responsibility."

400 Meet Here For Regional Lions Program: Four hundred Lions and their wives and guests from a score of towns and cities in Pennsylvania and Maryland attended the annual spring Regional Ladies' Night program for Region 3 of District 14-C on Monday evening in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium on the Gettysburg college campus.

A baked ham dinner, singing, speeches, a floor show, dancing and the showing of motion pictures of the International Lions convention at Havana last summer featured the evening's program. The address of welcome was delivered by W. C. Sheely, president and Fulton counties, and the principal guest speaker was Hugh Kelsner, Washington, D. C., governor of the Maryland-District of Columbia district 22-B.

Mrs. Borries Is New Leader Of County Deacons: Officers to serve the Conecogue Deacons of the National Council of Catholic Women for the next year were named at the annual board meeting which was preceded by a dinner at the Biglerville hotel on Monday evening. All of the eight parishes of the Deacons were represented. Mrs. Frank Borries, New Oxford, was chosen president to succeed Miss Mary Eberhart, of Gettysburg, and these other officers were chosen: Vice president, Mrs. Rosalie Raffensperger, Ardenville; secretary, Miss Mary Weaver, Littlestown, and treasurer, Mrs. Georgiana Pink, New Oxford. About 350 students who are members of the high school orchestra, band and choruses and the Lincoln school will take part. Miss Dorothy Brindle and Edwin S. Longenecker are directing the festival which is being planned as a benefit to secure funds toward the cost of the new uniforms for the band members. Admission to the musical program will be 15 and 25 cents.

Today's Talk

LITTLE REMEMBRANCES

In nearly every room of my home are to be seen little remembrances from friends, or those gathered from near and far, to keep my memory fresh and green. A little elephant from India, a small plaster figure from the great sculptor, George Grey Barnard, an loon from Russia, a water color from a friend, a pocket piece from Alaska, some Dickens characters in porcelain, and an ash tray from a great ocean liner — and so many others.

Lord Tennyson's son tells of a tobacco box that Carlyle gave to his father "as a pledge of eternal brotherhood." How much these small remembrances mean at the time of giving, but how precious they grow with the years! It isn't the intrinsic value of a thing that endears it to us, but what came with it from the heart of the giver.

There is a little book on my desk with sayings of a favorite author that a friend sent to me, having found it beautifully herself. I have never met her in person, but I know her kindness of heart — the kind that can travel around the world, and leave memories all along the trail.

I prize the letters that I receive because each one is an evidence of thoughtfulness. They encourage me. I like to give small gifts to my friends who have been kind to me. Even a post card says so much more than the brief message it carries. Little remembrances are always surprises — and who doesn't like a surprise?

We never get too old to send pleasant remembrances to our friends. On a recent vacation to several different foreign countries it gave me a thrill to see people buying gifts to take back home to others. It's a wonderful habit to make permanent!

THE COMIC CARD
My brother-in-law, when he visits, works hard
To find what he thinks is a suitable card.
And yesterday's mail brought a comic to me
Which for some unknown reason he thought I should see.

A boy and a frog and a mother distressed,
The latter a lady but almost undressed.
Away from the frog she had started to run;
And I laughed at her plight, which I shouldn't have done.

I laughed at the innocent lady's despair.
I laughed at the boy who had left the frog there.
But I'm sure I laughed most, and I should be ashamed,
At the card's bold suggestion: fit to be framed.

For nearly six hours today German guns on the French coast shelled the Dover area — the heaviest such cross-channel action of the war and the sort to be expected with any invasion attempt. British guns replied, making it a mammoth deal across some 20 miles of water, and the R.A.F. droned out to blaze the Nazi emplacements.

Citizen Group Formed To Push Pest Crusade: Formation of a citizens' committee, embracing all organizations of Gettysburg and as many private citizens as care to join, was effected Monday evening at the Gettysburg fire engine house to eradicate the mosquito problem in the borough.

Representatives of the town Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops, American Legion, Odd Fellows, churches, Junior Chamber of Commerce, borough council, and a number of other organizations and a few interested individuals were present on Tuesday evening at the Y.W.C.A. building. Bullets Blank Blue Jays 10-0 For 5th Win; Oppose Diplomats In Night Game

Brilliant hurling by starter Joe Foulk and his relief man, Joe Bierly, gave the Gettysburg College baseball team its fifth win in its last six starts as the Blue Jays blanked the Diplomats in a night game here Thursday afternoon 10-0.

The Blue Jays, now 5-3 for the season, will play their first night game in history when they meet Franklin and Marshall this evening at 8 o'clock on Stump Field, Lancaster.

Foulk hurled the first seven innings, yielding four hits and fanning six. Bierly finished up and gave up but one safely while fanning four.

Fast Start
Gettysburg scored a pair of runs in the first inning on Art Hendley's walk, his steal of second base, a double by Ken Polak to left center, and Frank Capitani's single to the same spot.

The Blue Jays added two more in the fourth on a walk to Alleva and safeties to Bob Swenk and Foulk. Another pair came in the fifth via Hendley's walk, a single by Foulk, an outfield error and sacrifice flies by Capitani and Alleva.

Without registering a single hit, the Blue Jays tabbed four runs in the sixth. Walks to Al Ti, Bob Dickson and Hendley loaded the sacks and when Polak was hit by a pitched ball, Ti scored. A walk to Capitani forced Dickson across. Another walk to Robinski forced in Hendley and when the ball got past the catcher, Polak raced over.

Johns Hopkins now has a 2-4 season record.

PHILLIES WILL POLICE CROWDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies management has established a system to "police" the crowds at Connie Mack Stadium.

The anti-rowdiness system is an attempt to prevent a recurrence of last Sunday's bottle throwing during the Phillies-New York Giants double-header.

At Wednesday night's Philadelphia Pirates game, every section of the stands was supervised by a red-capped usher from a re-enforcement staff. The ushers had instructions to notify a supervisor immediately of any outbursts. City policemen from a special detail backed up the supervisors.

Hot chocolate salesmen now will retain the can after pouring the contents into a paper cup. Beer is not sold in the ball park, but fans have been bringing it with them. Soft drinks are dispensed in paper cups.

GENE LITTLER LEADS $37,500 GOLF TOURNEY

By BOB MYERS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The picture was about the same as one year ago as 22 select players headed into the second round of the $37,500 Tournament of Champions today, with Gene Littler the most prominent in the golfing scene.

The 25-year-old California star held a two-stroke lead with a 70 and, as the betting favorite in this betting town, seemed a hard man to beat.

A year ago Gene and two others, Chick Harbert and Ed Furgol, were tied going into the second round and held a bare one-stroke lead over their nearest challengers. Then and was never seriously threatened in his drive for the $10,000 winner's prize.

In many respects, for a Tournament of Champions, the situation was out of focus. Every player had to be the winner of a major open during the past year to qualify for the Las Vegas affair, now in its fourth year.

Exacts Heavily Tied
But a blustering wind that sometimes reached 40 m.p.h. and the Desert Inn Country Club course, 7,102 yards of man-fashioned golfing country with a par of 36-36-72—took their toll.

Three former National Open champions felt the blow. Gary Middlecoff, who seldom shoots over 75, took 79 yesterday to get around the place. The current U.S. Open champion, Jack Fleck, was high man with a fat 82.

Lloyd Mangrum, after a threatening 35 on the front side, took a 40, a 75 and a back seat for the day.

Hoping to move in on Littler today were such professionals as Doug Ford, Ted Kroll and Shelley Mayfield, who were only two shots back of Littler.

Three blows away was Henry Ransom, a veteran of many years, and at 74 were Chandler Harper, Arnold Palmer, Frank Stranahan and young Mike Fetchik.

TWO PROMOTERS HAD TO SHARE PROFITS WITH IBC

NEW YORK (AP)—The monopoly trial of the International Boxing Club was in recess Thursday after two promoters testified they had to agree to pay the IBC a share of profits before they could stage heavyweight title bouts involving Ezzard Charles.

The government's antitrust suit against the IBC, its affiliates and officers on charges of monopolizing the promotion of fights were resumed this morning before Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

Sam Becker, a Cincinnati promoter and clothing manufacturer, testified Wednesday that Jim Norris, IBC president, asked him for $150,000 if he wanted to promote a Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott fight in Ohio in 1949.

Paid 5 Per Cent
Dewey Michaels of Buffalo told the court he had to agree to pay the IBC five per cent of the profits to stage a Charles-Fredde Beahore title fight at Buffalo, Aug. 15, 1950. Michaels added, however, he never paid the five per cent as he lost $20,000. The bout set an all-time low for heavyweight title receipts with $28,666.

Becker also said he had to agree to pay the IBC 25 per cent of the profits for promoting a title defense by Charles in Cincinnati against Nick Barone Dec. 5, 1950. He said the IBC got $208 as its share.

John N. Grombach, American manager of Laurent Dauthuille of France, said the IBC demanded an exclusive contract and a $20,000 note "to protect" its interests before the Frenchman got a chance at Jake Lamotta's middleweight title at Detroit Sept. 19, 1950.

Although she's been back in training only three months since the birth of her daughter, Mrs. Ruddick is rated an excellent chance not only to qualify for the U.S. squad but even to win the all-around title and the team's first-place spot that goes with such a victory.

One of her chief rivals for the national title, defending champion, Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Ontario, is out of the running. Miss Russell, Canada's No. 1 Olympian, arrived yesterday with a dislocated elbow and will be unable to compete.

Although 175 competitors are on hand for the 69th annual AAU tourney, Olympic team berths go to the top six men and top six women in the all-around competition that includes six events for men and four for women.

Co-Champs Return
Karl Schwenzfeier of Penn State and Jack Miles of Florida State, the 1955 AAU all-around co-champs, are back with five former Olympians and a handful of college champs to produce the stiffest fight for Olympic berths in history.

The teams will be named to morning night. Preliminary exercises are listed for this afternoon and tonight.

"I have it all fixed up to make the trip if I make the team," Mrs. Ruddick explained. Her parents will look after her children.

The 5-foot-9, 130-pound gymnast is competing in her initial Olympic tryout although she first took private lessons at 4.

Big Ten Slaps One Year's Probation On Ohio State; 20 Gridders Are Ineligible

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buffeted by the biggest prestige blow in its history—a one-year probation by the Big Ten for violations of the sports code—Ohio State University started today to put its athletic house in order.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Western Conference commissioner, announced the penalty yesterday in Chicago after a log and intensive probe.

The edict eliminated the Bucks from all chance at next season's Rose Bowl bid, should they win an unprecedented third straight conference football crown; ordered Coach Woody Hayes to comply with the rules regarding financial aid to athletes; insisted that the university supervise the work program of athletes diligently; and declared some 20 gridders temporarily and theoretically ineligible. The players involved were not named.

Michigan State is the only other school ever placed on probation in the Big Ten. That was in 1953.

Did Not Deny Guilt
Ohio State officials, while deploring the severity of the penalty, did not plead innocent.

President Howard Bevis observed, "We will accept the judgment of the commissioner and abide by it. Any violations of the rules of which we have been guilty will be stopped. We mean to live within the rules."

Coach Hayes said: "Commissioner Wilson's decision comes as a terrible shock to all of us. All my life I have been taught to respect properly delegated authority, and for this reason I do not believe we should appeal the decision. This, however, does not infer that I agree with the severity of the penalty, nor the manner in which the investigation was made."

Hayes was the principal target of Wilson's statement. The commissioner said: "Football Coach Woody Hayes has acknowledged assistance to unnamed members of the Ohio State football squads from his personal funds in amounts which are said to total approximately $400 annually over a period of five years."

The statement also said Hayes had refused to name the beneficiaries of the assistance. Wilson said his investigation is continuing because of "Mr. Hayes' refusal to provide an accounting of this assistance."

Logart Favored Over Joe Miceli

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Cuba's Isaac Logart, who has punched and danced his way to third ranking among welterweights, is rated a 2-1 favorite over Joe Miceli in their scheduled 10-round fight tonight.

Both Logart and the ninth-ranked Miceli are expected to weigh about 147 pounds for the nationally broadcast and telecast (10 p.m., EST, NBC) scrap in County War Memorial Auditorium.

Miceli, a converted southpaw from Brooklyn, counts heavily on his left, which has scored 23 knockouts in a record of 28 victories, 24 losses and seven draws.

Logart, 23, has a record of 43-5-5, with 18 knockouts.

RECENT MOTHER SEEKS BERTH ON OLYMPIC TEAM

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A young Indiana housewife who had her second child only 5½ months ago is counting on 19 years of gymnastic training to earn her a trip to Australia with the U.S. Olympic team this fall.

"I'd be the happiest girl in town if I could qualify for the trip with the women's gymnastic team," said Mrs. Sandra M. Ruddick, 23, wife of an Indianapolis insurance executive, as she prepared to compete today in the joint National AAU championships and Olympic tryouts.

Mrs. Ruddick arrived at the campus of Pennsylvania State University Monday to get ready for the two-day competition for both men and women.

3 Months Training
Although she's been back in training only three months since the birth of her daughter, Mrs. Ruddick is rated an excellent chance not only to qualify for the U.S. squad but even to win the all-around title and the team's first-place spot that goes with such a victory.

Fairfield High pulled a stunning upset in the Adams County Scholastic Baseball League by handing Boiling Springs its first loss in league competition on the Bubbler's field Thursday afternoon 4-3.

Eddie Spence hurled the distance for the winners and gave up only five hits while striking out seven.

Three runs in the third inning for Fairfield came on a pair of singles and double by Dick Cline. After the Bubbler's knotted the score in the last of the fourth at 3-3, Fairfield pushed over a run in the top of the sixth to clinch the verdict.

East Berlin scored in each of the first four innings to defeat invading Littletown 10-7 in a slugfest. Each team collected nine hits. Krail, C. Myers and H. Altland pounded two each for the winners while Crouse and Coppersmith also had two apiece for Littletown.

Hurlers' Duel
Bob Megonnell, York Springs, and Don Wiseman, New Oxford, hooked up in a brilliant pitchers' battle at York Springs and after 11 frames the teams were all even at 3-3 with the game being stopped by darkness. Wiseman fanned 20 and gave up four hits. Megonnell whiffed 13 and allowed three hits.

No date has been arranged to make up the contest.

An error, single by Weigle, walk to Megonnell and single by Hess, plus an outfield error, produced all of the Springers' runs in the first inning. New Oxford scored twice in the second on an error, walk to Higginbotham and an outfield miscue. The trying run in the seventh came on Sponseller's single, another single by Beamer and an infield bobbie.

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—World heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano is retiring from the ring, his wife Barbara said today. She said she had just received positive assurance from the champion that he was agreeing to her wishes.

Mrs. Marciano telephoned to sports editor Vic DuBois of the Brockton Enterprise. Rocky's home town newspaper, that she had talked with her husband in New York and that he planned a formal announcement immediately.

Allie Colombo, local manager for the champion, confirmed the news.

"SO WITH PRAYER..."

The sure and nimble touch of the hands of a great pianist is the result of hours of daily practice over a period of years. The great and thrilling music which he creates is the product of daily devotion to his art.

Every fine accomplishment in life requires the same daily devotion. If your house is neat as a pin, if you have a lovely garden, if your office is well-run and efficient, you know that it takes hours of daily care and devotion.

So with prayer. Prayer is one of the highest gifts a man has. But if it is to become more than a spasmodic and superstitious cry for help, it too requires daily care and devotion. It takes practice!

The Church stands ready to help you and your children know the great joy which comes to a man through daily prayer. And the best part of it is, the more you practice prayer, the greater the joy and happiness you will derive from it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest labor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

THE CHURCH REACHES OUT
Acts 8:4-8, 14-17, 26-28, 34, 35
Key Verse: By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another. John 13:35.

It is not hard to imagine the consternation of the Christian community in Jerusalem after Stephen's martyrdom. The event marked the beginning of persecutions — the result of continual tension between the followers of Christ and the old Jewish authorities. The latter actually systematically searched for his band of believers, and soon the Christians were disorganized and scattered.

The scattering of the Christians did not mean that they ceased to preach, teach, and heal. Quite the contrary. Open persecution seemed to crystallize their faith and they traveled far and wide to tell and spread the Gospel story. Previously the witnessing for Christ had been confined to Jerusalem. Now Christ's disciples entered a new phase of their work — outreach into other parts of their own country and beyond.

Consequently, this week's lesson from Acts is about Philip, one of the seven deacons who was later called the Evangelist. It was he who went to Samaria and proclaimed Christ to the multitudes there. According to the text they "gave heed to what was said by Philip, when they heard him and saw the signs which he did." These so-called "signs" were miracles of healing. Luke, the physician, distinguishes clearly between the "unclean spirits" which were disorders of the mind and "paralyzed or lame" which were organic diseases. Philip's success in gaining converts did not go unheralded.

Sent To Samaria

Soon the word reached the apostles at Jerusalem so Peter and John were sent to Samaria. Their main purpose in going was to verify the genuineness of the conversions and to pray that the newly baptized would receive the Holy Spirit. It could be called the confirmation of the Samaritan converts. However, not only apostles could impart the gift of the Holy Spirit. An ordinary disciple named Ananias laid his hands on Paul, conferring upon him the Holy Spirit.

Prompted by an angel of the Lord, Philip was told to go south on the road from Jerusalem to Gaza. He obeyed and journeyed along the desert road until he encountered an Ethiopian, a minister of Candace who was queen of the Ethiopians. The man had come to Jerusalem to worship and was returning home in his chariot. As he traveled, he read the prophecies of Isaiah — particularly the portions about the promised Messiah. He was puzzled and asked this stranger on the Gaza road, "about whom, pray, does the prophet say this, about himself or about someone else?"

This was the opportune moment for Philip! The Evangelist recognized that this prominent man was searching for the truth, so he preached Christ. The Ethiopian believed and then inquired, "What is to prevent my being baptized?" So on the sandy desert highway the Ethiopian eunuch became a Christian. Little is known about his future life or work, but it is believed that he was a missionary in Africa — a home missionary with an alien faith.

Use Philip's Method

The power of the Gospel moves people of other lands and races in much the same way today. And the same method is used as Philip used. He began at the point in which the Ethiopian was particularly interested. Ezekiel, prophet of the Babylonian exile, used the same strategy, for along the River Chelbar among the Jewish captives, he claimed, "I sat where they sat." Modern missionaries use the same techniques in teaching the Gospel, identifying themselves with the people, learning their customs and culture. Such fellowship brings confidence and respect.

The most of Philip's witnessing took place in Caesarea, the place where he made his home. He was in that city many years later when Paul and Luke visited it and acted as host to the Apostle and his companion. Philip's experience in carrying the Good News should be a challenge to every layman. Furthermore, it demonstrated that the church of Christ grows despite persecutions.

Some findings of the White House Conference on education with special attention to teacher recruiting.

Discuss Teacher Supply
Speakers were Miss Alice M. Snyder, a high school teacher, and Mrs. J. B. Collins, a teacher and member of the local school board. Miss Snyder described the teacher shortage in Pennsylvania and suggestions made at the state conference on education to meet the shortage. She said an increase of 3,000 is needed in the number entering the teaching profession annually to meet the present shortage and said the best place to recruit teachers is in the classroom by the teachers themselves. She warned against reducing standards to meet the shortage, but urged a raising of professional standards to compare with the other professions. She pointed out that state teacher colleges lack facilities and staff to turn out teachers in the quantity they are needed. Ninety per cent of the teacher college graduates enter the profession, she said.

NINE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — A terrific apartment house explosion and fire here early today took the lives of an estimated nine persons.

Five survivors of the blast at this southwest Virginia town of 9,000 are hospitalized. Sixteen persons were believed inside the two-story brick building, but an exact count was not available.

W. J. Mahaffey, operator of a restaurant on the first floor, said the building exploded when he struck a match to light a gas water heater. He said he believed an earlier attempt to light the heater was not successful and that the restaurant was flooded with gas. He is one of the survivors.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Mrs. Uber welcomed the Littlestown chapter members. A poem, "Proudly We Stand," was read by Miss Nicki George. Mrs. Selma Hess read a message from Walter W. clothing store for children from infant to 12 years of age. Her sister, Mrs. Bernard Redding Jr., became her first assistant.

When the business grew too large for its Carlisle St. quarters 2½ years ago, it was moved to Lincoln Square. When the bank decided to enlarge its quarters, the POS of A building was purchased. Now the store has a basement the length of the storeroom, a workroom, air conditioning, all modern equipment, including some small size clothes racks, where the tiny youngsters will find dressed hanging at just the height that will let them have as good a look as mother will have.

The store extends from the sidewalk to the rear of the building, but a large areaway provides for large window displays. The floor level is continued to the window, and the display area is separated by a wrought iron fence.

Well Known Brands
Nationally known brand clothing are merchandised. Clothing is offered for boys in McKim, Arrow, Jack Tar and Billy The Kid brands. The girls clothing brands include Sacony, Love, Twinkle Frocks, Quality and Mrs. Day's Ideal Baby Shoes. In the near future the store will also be the local agency for Girl Scout clothing.

The name of the store "Jack and Jill" came from the nursery rhyme. Searching for a name for her business, Mrs. Guise felt the name "Jack and Jill" would symbolize small youngsters. She finds that numerous other stores agree. Since then she has found Jack and Jill stores in many towns "so many, some tourists tell me they think we're a chain. Yet each one is separately owned and each adopted the name individually. So I'm more certain than ever that it's a good name."

REDS IN POLAND INVESTIGATING KATYN KILLINGS

NEW YORK (AP)—A report has seeped across the Iron Curtain that the Polish Communist government is investigating the Katyn Forest massacre.

Analysts here doubt the suggestion the Polish Reds might dare raise this hot issue.

Still, the report deserves attention because the Polish Communists are going much further these days in their denunciation of Stalin and his works than other Soviet satellites.

Katyn Forest, in western Russia near Smolensk, was the scene of the mass murder in 1940 of more than 4,000 Polish army officers who had been missing since the Polish defeat in 1939.

The Germans, who first reported the massacre during World War II, said the Russians did it. The Soviet government blamed the Nazis. An American congressional committee held hearings for nine months in 1951-52 and laid the massacre at the door of the Russians.

Report In June
The new report from Poland says the Warsaw government has established a group to investigate and can be expected to make a report in June, which might be made public.

If the report is true, it could mean the Poles intend to whitewash the Russians. Such a step would stem from the fact that the denunciation of Stalin and revelation of some of his crimes has awakened bitter memories in Poland. Many Poles nowadays are asking questions—some of them no doubt about Katyn.

It is also conceivable—barely—that the Kremlin, having admitted so many of Stalin's purges and massacres, has decided to blame him for Katyn Forest also. Such an action would arouse strong passions in Poland and could be dangerous to the Communists.

If the Polish Reds are delving into the Katyn story, it seems certain it is being done with Moscow's approval.

On The U. S. Political Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Looking at Tuesday's primary results from quite different angles, both the Republican and Democratic national chairmen have claimed "smashing" gains in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

Meanwhile, returns trickling from remote and scattered Alaska precincts showed Adlai Stevenson holding a 3-2 edge over Sen. Estes Kefauver in the territory's Democratic presidential preference primary, also held last Tuesday. The combined Democratic total there was about 25 per cent bigger than the Republican vote, with the bulk of the GOP ballots going to President Eisenhower.

In Washington, Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall proclaimed Wednesday that Eisenhower's "smashing victory over his Democrat opponents in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts constitutes an overwhelming vote of confidence in his record."

Claims Victory
But Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler proclaimed that "Democrats scored an outright victory in Massachusetts over President Eisenhower." Although Stevenson's total in Pennsylvania was nearly 300,000 below that of Eisenhower, Butler claimed a "smashing" percentage increase in the Democratic vote there—40 per cent of the total last Tuesday as compared with 13 per cent in 1952.

In Massachusetts, the combined Democratic vote topped the Republican aggregate by a few hundred. But Eisenhower got the biggest individual vote—51,767. The high man on the Democratic side there was Rep. John W. McCormack, a favorite son. He got 28,251. Stevenson was second and Kefauver a distant third.

The latest count from Alaska showed that in 100 of the territory's 279 precincts, Stevenson had 2,719 votes and Kefauver had 1,611 on the Democratic ballot. The Republican totals — 3,399 for Eisenhower and 183 for Sen. William F. Knowland of California.

Report Political Lull
Except for the backwash of the Tuesday primaries, there was little activity on the political scene. Stevenson spoke in New York Wednesday night and used the occasion to criticize the Eisenhower administration for "refusing to rise" to what he said was a "great moral and constitutional crisis" stemming from the Supreme Court's decree against racial segregation in the public schools.

Stevenson invaded the New York preserve of Gov. Averell Harriman and made a strong pitch for the big state's 98 Democratic convention votes. A number of Democratic leaders, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), appeared on the speaker's platform with Stevenson.

Harriman Raps Ike
Harriman — still an "inactive" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination — was in Schenectady, in upstate New York, where he accused Eisenhower of giving the American people "compliant assurances" instead of what he called "the candid truth" about the Soviet Union's military strength. Harriman spoke at a Democratic dinner.

New speculation was set off by Eisenhower's news conference statement Wednesday that Vice President Nixon has not yet given him "final and definitive" word on whether Nixon wants to run again this fall.

But Republican Senators Mundt of South Dakota, Aiken of Vermont and Kuchel of California said in Washington Wednesday night they SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—A Virginia woman was seriously injured Thursday when she fell from a moving automobile on Rt. 115 at nearby Liverpool.

Physicians at Sunbury Community Hospital reported Mrs. Ida Kuykendall of Hopewell, Va., was in "poor" condition with a left wrist fracture, possible right wrist fracture and numerous cuts.

Police said Mrs. Kuykendall, a passenger in the car of T. G. McClary of Richmond, Va., fell when the car door opened accidentally. Mrs. Kuykendall was en route to New York.

Surmount Losses By Varied Income

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Stockholders of the Glen Alden Corp. were told the firm overcame first quarter losses on hard coal operations through income from diversified activities.

President Francis O. Case told the annual meeting Wednesday net income for the first quarter totaled $18,835 after depreciation and depletion charges of $50,000. The income figure was equal to one cent a share.

had no doubts that Nixon has decided to seek re-election.

GOP Chairman Hall, in a keynote speech prepared for the New Jersey Republican State Convention in Trenton, said today, "The beneficiaries of the successful Republican program are all the people."

ALDERMAN TRIED ON 54 COUNTS

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A Clinton County alderman went on trial here Thursday on 54 counts of extortion and perjury.

The Clinton County grand jury Wednesday indicted Alderman John P. Eckel, 49, on the counts after hearing testimony for two days.

He was originally charged with more than 100 separate counts. The Lock Haven official was arrested on charges of extortion last February.

Pick Jury
He countered the arrest with formal charges of conspiracy against three city policemen, an attorney and Dist. Atty. Robert D. O'Connor.

The charges were thrown out after a hearing before another Lock Haven alderman.

The perjury charges arose from false statements Eckel is accused of having made at the hearing on conspiracy charges against the four men.

CANCELS OVER 2 MILLION IN PIKE CONTRACTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission disclosed Thursday it has canceled more than 2 million dollars in contracts for mine filling work along the northeastern extension of the toll road.

Commission Atty. Arthur Maguire said the commission cancelled the contracts Wednesday at its regular weekly meeting.

The two contracts were held by Rogers Construction Co., Scranton, and Manu Mine Research and Development Co., Reading.

They totaled $2,278,351 and were for mine filling work on the extension in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

Decide On New Method
Chairman F. Franklin McSorley said the commission decided on a new method of drilling and filling from the side of the roadbed rather than directly through the surface of the right of way.

Work on the project was halted several weeks ago when an investigation was started into the way the work was being done.

McSorley said the work will be readvertised and new contracts awarded. He estimated the new method of operation will save 35 to 40 per cent of the cost under the present method.

Last week charges were filed by the State Justice Department against five men associated with the two firms. The men were accused of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the commission in connection with the work.

Over Year Old
The contracts were awarded more than a year ago when the commission was Republican controlled.

The Manu Mine firm was supervising the work being done by the Rogers Company.

In filing the charges against the five men, Atty. Gen. Cohen said that up to the time the operation was suspended, Rogers had claimed payment for nearly $500,000.

"It has been estimated by our sources of information that not more than one third of the materials represented by that sum was actually flushed into the mines," Cohen said.

Votes Cast
Maguire said the cancellation decision was reached by a vote of the commission and representatives of the commission bond holders.

Those charged with conspiracy to defraud the commission are: Amos J. and Joseph A. Rogers, partners in the Rogers firm; Walter J. Ketas, general manager; George Oswald, former superintendent, and Donald H. Burkert, supervisor of the Manu Mine company.

Pneumonia still kills about 45,000 Americans a year.

SEVEN LEADERS ARE HONORED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Seven past leaders were honored at memorial services opening the 117th annual East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Tribute was paid Wednesday to: Bishop Emeritus John S. Stamm who died this year in Kansas City; Dr. E. E. Stauffer, a conference superintendent for 16 years; the Rev. W. S. Harris, Allentown; Mrs. Kathryn A. Erisman, widow of the Rev. A. I. Erisman, Perkasie; Ambrose DeLong, lay delegate of Westcoastville; Mrs. Anna Long, lay delegate of Orwigsburg; and Bert H. Schaeffer, a trustee of the Lewisburg home, Lewisburg.

About 200 delegates from 112 congregations are attending the five day meeting which closes Sunday with announcement of pastoral changes.

In his address of welcome, Bishop George E. Epp, Harrisburg, set the keynote to the conference by saying today's Christian is called "to a life of self-effacement in the furtherance of God's kingdom."

Dartmouth track coach Ellie Noyes doesn't have to worry about the scholastic standing of his 600-yard runner Paul S. Berry. The athlete was named to HBI Beta Kappa.

Czech Red Chief Loses High Posts

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Once one of Czechoslovakia's most powerful Communists, Gen. Alexei Cepicka, is the latest casualty in the Red drive against the "cult of the individual."

Prague radio announced Cepicka, 46-year-old son-in-law of the late President Klement Gottwald, had been fired from his posts as deputy premier and defense minister. He was also kicked out of the government politburo and dropped from the Central Committee of the Czech Communist party.

The broadcast said, "Cepicka committed serious mistakes in his capacity as minister as well as party leader." It said he was removed from his official posts by the Central Committee in a special meeting April 20 and that President Antonin Zapotocky had approved the committee decision.

MARRIES MAN OF ESCAPE

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Miss Juliette (Judy) Wehle, 20, whose abrupt midnight dash to New York City with a boy friend last January canceled her scheduled marriage to an Air Force officer, today honeymooned in Florida with the boy friend of her escape.

Relatives confirmed that Judy and Stephen Hahn, 26, son of wealthy parents, were married Wednesday in a quiet ceremony in a Roman Catholic church in suburban Gates.

The Air Force officer, Lt. John D. Owens, 24, is in the Orient on military assignment.

Miss Wehle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Wehle and a niece of Louis A. Wehle, New York conservation commissioner.

Her New York trip, which ended at the home of a relative of Hahn, took place only a few hours before she was to have gone to

Woman Motorist Hurt In Slide

SELINGROVE, Pa. (AP)—A Buffalo, N.Y., woman motorist was hurt Thursday when her car skidded down an embankment along Rt. 15, five miles north of Selingrove. Police said Mrs. Aglain Kapodistria, 65, applied the brakes suddenly when a school bus stopped in front of her.

The car skidded on the soft road shoulder and went down the embankment. Mrs. Kapodistria was taken to the Sunbury Community Hospital in fair condition with a right leg fracture, cuts and bruises. Her son, William, and daughter, Kathryn, escaped serious injury.

The three were on their way to Washington, D.C., at the time.

Relative said the newlyweds would return from Florida May 1 and reside at Conesus Lake, about 35 miles south of here.

WILL QUESTION NIXON LEADER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee Wednesday night summoned Los Angeles Atty. Murray Chotiner for questioning next Wednesday about his services for a garment manufacturer in trouble with the government.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) signed the subpoena and had it sent to the U.S. marshal in Los Angeles to be served on Chotiner, a figure in Republican politics.

Chotiner, who was Vice President Nixon's 1962 campaign manager, told newsmen in Los Angeles it wasn't necessary to subpoena him. He said the senators already knew he was willing to testify voluntarily after taking care of some matters that would keep him tied up until May 2.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee which issued the summons, told reporters Chotiner had broken a promise to be here today. He said the subpoena will assure that Chotiner will be here when wanted. Kennedy said Chotiner was needlessly "creating a rumpus" about the subpoena.

McClellan, the subcommittee chairman, said he thought that in any event "Mr. Chotiner would want to testify" about a $5,000 "professional fee" he has acknowledged receiving in 1953 as counsel for garment maker Herman Kravitz of Atlantic City, N.J.

Kravitz was convicted of the charge in 1954 and fined $5,000.

PROGRESSES IN FINAL JORDAN PEACE TALKS

By WILTON WYNN

AMMAN, Jordan (U.N. Sec. retary General Dag Hammarskjöld) chalked up more progress in his Mideastern peace mission Thursday as he wound up talks with Jordanian leaders.

Although nothing official was revealed regarding Hammarskjöld's talks in Amman, well-informed sources reported Jordan is willing to go along with a pledge of a cease-fire and general armistice observance.

These sources added Jordan also was ready to agree for local commanders to seek ways of avoiding incidents along the frontier, and possibly to an increase in the number of U. N. truce observers on the border.

Conclusions Reached

After a final conference with Premier Samir El Rifai, the secretary general in a statement said that "the whole field under the mandate from the Security Council (to secure observance of the Palestine armistice) was covered in the talks here and on all points conclusions have been reached."

Hammarskjöld, who was directed by the Security Council to seek ways of ensuring compliance with became involved in industrial espionage for Communist Russia and later went on to participate in military espionage.

Worked Psychologically

"The Russians did a superb psychological job on me," Gold said at a one-man hearing conducted by Sen. Welker (R-Idaho). While Welker was the only subcommittee member present, the hearing room was overflowing with spectators.

The subcommittee said that at another hearing today, David Greenglass, also a key figure in the Rosenberg atomic spy case, will be questioned. A former Army corporal, he drew a 15-year prison term after pleading guilty to an espionage charge.

Greenglass was the chief accuser of his sister, Ethel Rosenberg, and her husband, Julius, at their trial on charges of passing atomic secrets to the Russians.

The Rosenbergs were convicted on March 29, 1951, and were executed in Sing Sing prison on June 19, 1953—the first American civilians in history to be executed for espionage.

Cadillac

Giving In...To His Practical Side!

We will tell you, in all honesty, that this gentleman was a little dubious when he first walked into the showroom.

There was no question, to be sure, about his wanting a Cadillac.

But, quite frankly, he wondered whether or not he was in a position to purchase a motor car as wonderful as the 1956 Cadillac.

But now he is learning some facts about this distinguished motor car that are removing the doubt from his mind.

First of all, he is learning that a Cadillac is relatively modest in its initial cost.

He is finding out about Cadillac's extraordinary dependability and freedom from repairs.

He is discovering the remarkable facts about

Cadillac's traditionally wonderful resale value.

And, lastly, he is being told that, at this time of the year, his dealer is able to make Cadillac ownership even more practical than usual.

That's why we suspect that—having given in long ago to his heart—he is now giving in to his practical side. And that's a combination no man can resist!

If you have considered Cadillac the car in your future—but have postponed making the move for reasons of economy—we urge you to stop in soon.

As an experienced Cadillac dealer, we have established a wonderful relationship with fine-car motorists throughout the community. Our reputation for integrity is positive assurance of your satisfaction as a customer.

Vice President Nixon To Seek GOP Renomination

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican 1956 ticket was all but wrapped up today. Vice President Nixon said he would run again. President Eisenhower said he was "delighted."

Democrats, expressing no surprise at Nixon's decision, indicated they will direct plenty of fire at him. Many of them have bitterly criticized his campaign tactics in the past.

He seemed likely to shoulder a major portion of the GOP campaigning this year.

Barring some health setback for Eisenhower, Nixon's announcement yesterday seemed to leave only formalities for the GOP's August convention in San Francisco. Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said even the drafting of a platform ought not to present much of a problem. "It will be based on the Eisenhower administration record," he said.

Clears Political Atmosphere

Knowland said Nixon's announcement "clears the political atmosphere" so the party now can "close ranks and direct attention to gaining majorities in the Senate and the House."

Nixon's decision was announced after a White House conference with Eisenhower, who relayed his reaction through an aide. Nixon said he relied on his own and associates' judgment of what was best for "the success of the President in his campaign for the continued success of the President's administration in Washington."

"I do not greet this news with any misery whatever," said Adlai E. Stevenson in Miami, Fla., where he is campaigning for the lion.

"I am not surprised. Mr. Eisenhower has repeatedly stated his admiration for Mr. Nixon. I just think this is another point where he and I disagree."

Kefauver Confident

At Pittsburgh, Sen. Estes Kefauver, who also seeks the Democratic nomination, said he thinks the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket "is as strong as the Republicans could put up but I feel certain the Democrats will win in November."

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) put it this way: "Unless the President got a stronger back and a stouter heart than I think he has, that load (Nixon) will get awful heavy before November."

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said:

"I am sure that an overwhelming majority of American voters of both parties believe that Mr. Nixon is not the type of person to be in a position from which he may succeed to the presidency of our country."

G. I. FALLS DOWN FORTRESS SHAFT

VERDUN, France (AP)—American GI Gerald H. Dunnigan was apparently killed instantly when he fell down an ancient shaft of the Verdun fortress, authorities said today.

Dunnigan's body was found early Thursday morning after a round-the-clock search since he disappeared Saturday. He had been sighted with his wife who last saw him enter one of the entrances to Ft. Tannenberg.

Dunnigan was exploring the maze of tunnels used by the French in the famed World War I battle of Verdun. The fortress dates back to 1746, however, and the underground network is still largely unexplored.

The body of the 22-year-old soldier fell down a 80-foot shaft, bounced off a collapsed tunnel roof and fell another 14 feet. Tons of dislodged dirt and timber covered his body.

The body of the 22-year-old soldier will be sent to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Dunnigan, of Wicomico, Va. His wife and two young daughters will fly home.

NEGRO CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fire raced through a one-story cinder-block home eight miles northwest of here early Thursday, killing seven Negro children who were alone in the house.

Fire Chief Richard Campbell at Sylvania, whose men joined a Whiteford Township, Mich., company in fighting the blaze just north of the Michigan-Ohio border, said the father, John Cooper, 33, was en route with his wife, Laurel, 29, to a Toledo cafe where she works when the fire broke out.

Dead Members
Dead were Brenda Joyce, 9; Harrison Leonardo, 9; Jacqueline, 8; John, 4; Sherry Jean, 3; Georgia Marie, 2; and Carter Stephen, 2 months. Campbell said he believed Harrison Leonardo had been orphaned and was being reared by the Coopers.

Sheriff's deputies said Cooper was being held for investigation. The deputies said State Police wanted to determine why the children were left alone.

Cooper is employed as a foundry worker in Toledo. The couple has no other children.

Edward Arnold, 66, Succumbs Thursday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Veteran actor Edward Arnold died unexpectedly early Thursday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 66.
